Five Young Women Told to Work
Zealously in Their Chosen
Field.

With simple ceremony and in the presence of relatives and friends, five young women were graduated as trained nurses yesterday afternoon at the Homeopathic Hospital. The exercises were conducted by Dr. Ralph Jenkins, president of the board of trustees, of the hospital, assisted by the hospital staff. After presenting each graduate with a diploma, Dr. Jenkins congratulated the young women on the termination of their four years of zealous service in the institution, bidding them success in their chosen field.

Dr. S. S. Stearns, of the District Medical Society, who delivered the principal address, referred to the calling of the nurse as one of the noblest and most elevating within the scope of woman's labors. Go forth into life, he advised, and work patiently, sympathetically and zealously and your success will be certain.

The five graduates were Miss Mary S. Moore, Grace Nutter, Norma Oldberg, Mabel McCalmon, and Louise McGuire. Following the graduation exercises the young women gave an informal reception to their friends in the library of the hospital.

An Interesting Display By Miss Hawke's Pupils

The exhibition of character and fancy dancing by the pupils of Miss Hawke, held at the National Theater last night, was pronounced, by an audience which comfortably filled that theater, as an innovation worthy of popular approval. The talent displayed by a number of the pupils did honor to their parts and their instructor.

The little school took the house by storm on several occasions. "A Ham-mock Built for Two," by Margaret Carson, "Run, Run, Run," by Helen Lockwood, "Moving Day," by Beatrice Cosgrove, "Cheyenne," by Margaret Hudson, and "On the Street," by Roy Humphrey, were exceptionally pleasing to the patrons. Several dance features, notably those given by Elmer Donn, Angela Martine, Virginia Jeffries, Minnie Saxton, and Marion Robinson, were well done.

Elizabeth Forney and Harry Wells had the important roles of the exhibition. Miss Forney's exhibition of toe dancing, and her part in a tableau were clever exhibitions of the child's ability and aptitude at learning. Many of the patrons were grieved when the final curtain came, and expressed a satisfaction at what they had seen, and a desire for more were plainly apparent. Encores were numerous throughout the evening.

The costumes worn and the mechanical effects of the staging were contrasting, especially so in the opening of the second part of the exhibition. On this scene the curtain rose upon a beautiful garden scene that fairly enthralled the audience.

Fifteen Get Diplomas At School of Nursing

In George Washington University hall fifteen young ladies, from the School of Nursing of Columbia and Children's Hospitals, received, last night, from the hands of George M. Wilson, D. S., president of the board of trustees of the institution, their diplomas. The hall was draped in the American colors, and the stage front was a border of flowers, roses and carnations predominating. The exercises opened with prayer by the Rev. Alfred Harding. An interesting address was delivered by the Rev. D. J. Stafford.

Fred L. Moore, president of the hospital and secretary of the training school, read the annual report, which showed that there were fifty nurses in the school, which was the largest number in attendance in the District. The names of the graduates were read by Dr. George N. Acker, dean, and the diplomas were presented by General Wilson to the following young ladies: Aurora Elmore Armstrong, Alabama; Mary Elizabeth Berry, Maryland; Mary Carter, Virginia; Nettie Rambo Chandler, Pennsylvania; Virginia Meredith Darracott, Virginia; Virginia Jeffries Gabbert, West Virginia; Clara J. Taylor, New Brunswick, Canada; Azalea De Grange Jones, Maryland; Mary Catherine Malloy, New York; Florence Leah McCarthy, Indiana; Grace Avis Neuman, Pennsylvania; Eliza Cliff Shaw, Maryland; Eva Berry Strang, Canada; Erma Bertha Walker, Pennsylvania; Bertha Gordon Wilke, District of Columbia.

Girls Play "The Rivals" In Outdoor Performance

"The Rivals," Richard R. Sheridan's characteristic play, was presented by a cast of girls from the elementary department of Hamilton Institute in all fresco style on the institute grounds last night. Miss Katherine Seabrook, assisted by H. F. Seabrook and James Castle, of Baltimore, conceived the idea of having the play presented in the open. The scenery, worked out by the arrangement of lights and shrubbery presented an old English effect.

The principal parts were taken as follows: Miss Clara Moore, as Capt. Jack Absolute; Miss Carol Warren, as Bob Acres; Miss Margaret McKinney, as Mrs. Malaprop; Miss Cornelia Smith, as the part of Sir Anthony Absolute; other characters were Paulkland, Miss May Keenan; Sir Lancelot O'Trigger, Miss Nell Keenan; Miss Ellen Kersey; David, Miss Christine Memminger; Thomas, Miss Rachel Reiser; Lydia Langrish, Miss Nora Obleight; Julia Melville, Miss Florence Springer; and Lucy, Miss Margaret Jenkins.

Last night's exercises were a part of the graduation exercises which will be held on next Monday evening.

FAMOUS ATHLETES GATHER IN BOSTON

Intercollegiate Preliminaries This Afternoon.

BOSTON, Mass., May 25.—Boston is filled with college athletes this morning. Never before have there been so many stars in this city at one time. The cause is the thirty-first set of championship games of the Intercollegiate A. A., which takes place in the stadium at Cambridge today or tomorrow, and the boat races on the Charles river today.

Preliminaries Today.

This afternoon the preliminaries, except in the mile and two-mile runs, takes place, the first event, the 100-yard dash, starting at 3 o'clock. There are just 89 entries for the games, which put all previous records for numbers far in the shade.

The semi-finals and finals in the dashes $1.50 Keedysville (for Antietam Battle) held Decoration Day, from Baltimore & Ohio station, 7:30 a. m., May 30. Leave Keedysville 8 p. m., returning.

NEW RECTOR IS CHOSEN FOR ST. PAUL'S, BALTIMORE

BALTIMORE, May 25.—Rev. Arthur B. Kinsolving, rector of Christ Protestant Episcopal Church, Brooklyn, N. Y., has been decided upon as the successor to the Rev. Dr. J. S. B. Hodges at Old St. Paul's Church and will preach there Sunday. A call has been extended, after a committee of the vestry went to Brooklyn two weeks ago to hear him preach, and there is a great desire to have him assume charge.

Whether he will accept is a question which no one is prepared to answer, but the committee that nominated him is sure the right man has been found.
